

WITH HIGH PRESSURE INTO THE FUTURE

Modular metallurgy press systems of world renown

MODULAR

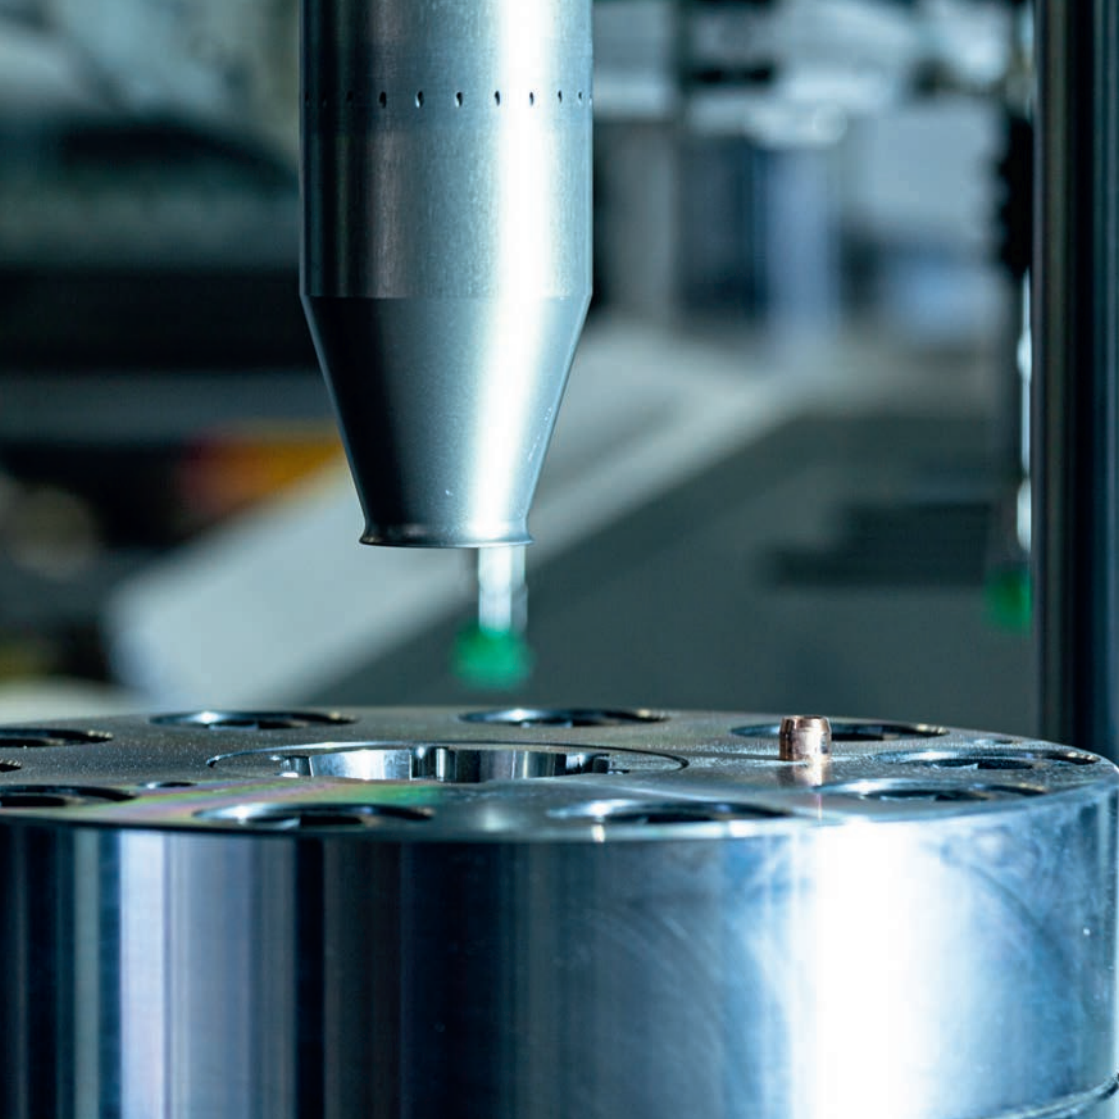

Size matters.

With the right partner by your side, even major plans can be realized effectively. Maneuverable and agile, with expert knowledge and decades of experience, we quickly find the perfect solution for you.

Frey presses with modular design are the right approach.

Production runs smoothly with our sophisticated systems. Purchasing and sales are unburdened.

Size matters!

PRECISE

Your success is our goal.

Involving external specialists is crucial to make an exciting project economically successful over the long term.

Frey systems have been used in many industries for years.

Products manufactured using our systems range from dental implants to artificial hip joints to gears for power trains. Even large insulators for high-voltage transmission lines or brake pads of all classes are no problem. Our technical know-how ensures outstanding precision in any form.

You will reach your goal!

RELIABLE

Life is full of surprises.

From the mass production of large volumes to small series, test samples, and custom fabrication. Our knowledge is in demand when it becomes very special for our partners.

Service is our middle name.

We have been designing our systems for all needs and a wide variety of tasks for over 30 years. Frey systems are safe, reliable, and have a long service life.

Frey systems rise to any challenge.

VALUE FOR MONEY

Optimal solutions have their price.

Which is relative. When the solution helps avoid costs, the flow of production flow runs smoothly, and the output is right, that is worth any price. If not, every cent is too much.

Frey has the right solutions to meet your needs.

We have the experience, know-how, and an extraordinary team.
That makes the difference.

With Frey, you are always a step ahead of the competition.
